Today's Game

Hornets Versus Tigers in Homecoming

Containing the number one pass receiver in the nation will be the homecoming task of the Fort Hays State Tigers today as the Emporia State Hornets meet the Tigers head on in a Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference game.

Emporia, 2-3 overall but 0-2 in the RMAC, will be without the services of the leading passer in Hornet history, Bob Leahy, who was declared ineligible three weeks ago. Leahy finished with an impressive 44 completions in 82 attempts for a .536 per cent completion average and 710 yards. Leahy also tossed for nine touchdowns while being intercepted twice.

Bob Janesko will call the signals for the Hornets and already has 26 completions in 64 attempts for 531 yards and four TDs. His main target is All-American Bruce Cerone who continues to set a standard in pass receiving that will make him the greatest in all college football. Currently, Cerone has 33 receptions for 666 yards and 8 touchdowns.

Even though Emporia counts heavily on an aerial game, the rushing attack still retains its punch with Charlie Divitto who gained 738 yards and scored 11 touchdowns last year. Divitto has been injured much of this season and hasn't been as effective as he was last season. Add Ted Woods, a halfback who gained 509 yards to rank second last year, and you have a tough tandem.

Against Southern Colorado in a 10-9 loss, the E-Staters played in 25-degree snow storm with winds up to 45 miles an hour. As a result, the passing game was off and Cerone's worst day was a 2 for 28 yards.

While the Indians were taking Emporia, the Tigers were losing to Washburn University 27-6 at Topeka. That loss extended the Bengal losing skein to 10 games including the final five of 1968.

Looking at the Tiger plus side, John Covington continues to pass for yardage with 34-93 for 624 yards and two touchdowns. Covington's completion percentage is only 36 per cent but his protection has allowed the rangy quarterback to be thrown for losses on 22 occasions for 199 yards lost.

In the Tiger rushing department, Tommy Evans is averaging 3.3 yards per tote with 347 net yards and three touchdowns. Jim Keating and Stan Bowen have rushed for 38 and 34 yards respectively.

Kenny Caywood leads the Tigers in pass receptions with 13 for 281 yards while Dennis Spratt has 11 for 219 yards. Lionell Jenkins ranks high in receptions with 11 for 93 yards. Tommy Evans is third in total yards with 3 catches for 107 yards.

Coach Tom Stromgren still feels his Tigers are capable of winning in the RMAC. "We have a good ball club but we haven't jelled yet," he said. "We still have Emporia, Southern Colorado, Pittsburg and Omaha and none of the four are easy so we'll just have to be better than they are on that given day. One thing sure, we won't quit just because we're 0-5. We're too proud to quit."

Welcome Alumni

Homecoming 1969

It is with real pleasure that I take this opportunity, my first as President of Fort Hays Kansas State College, to welcome you back to the college. My wife and I will be looking forward to meeting many of you at the reception following the game. I also hope that you will take every opportunity to visit the campus and will stop by to see me when you do.

This is a fine college, made that way by able and dedicated faculty members, staff, administrators, and students past and present. To enable the college to continue its development and to permit it to expand into new areas, we will need the continued support of all who are a part of the college community. Your presence here today tells me that you do feel a part of the college, and I hope that you will continue to do so in the future.

Sincerely yours,
John W. Gustad
President

Homecoming Queen Candidates

One Beauty to be Crowned

"Really? Me?" "I couldn't believe it!" "It's the greatest thing that ever happened to me!" were several of the reactions the five Homecoming finalists expressed over the election results.

The finalists and their sponsors are: Robyn Dansel, Jetmore senior, Mc-Mindes Hall; Elia Dominguez, Leoti junior, Custer and McGrath Halls; Cynthia Hoffman, Sublette junior, Delta Sigma Phi; Jan Schneider, Ellsworth junior, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Loretta Miller, Collyer junior, Agnew Hall.

Robyn Dansel, an elementary education major, described her experience as queen candidate as "fun and exciting." She lists a variety of sports, piano playing and sewing as her hobbies. The small size of FHS attracted her to Hays, but she notices a lack of school spirit on campus.

After the initial surprise over the candidacy news, Robyn learned "that everyone likes to be friendly." Marriage and studying for her master's degree are her immediate future plans.

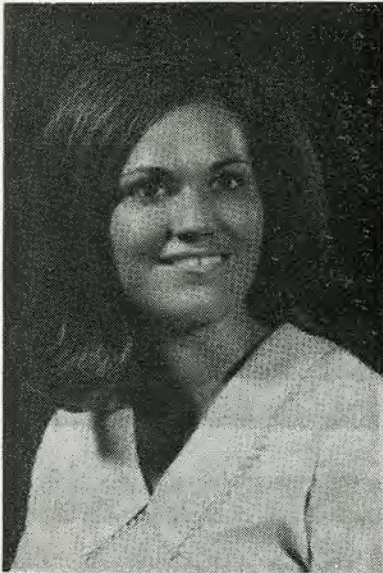

Elia Dominguez, Spanish and art major, admits she has not enjoyed her period of candidacy because "my funny name bothers me as much as it seems to bother others and now it's all over campus!"

Elia feels the size of FHS is beneficial both academically and socially. Before starting work on her master's degree, Elia wants to travel and "get to know thousands of people."

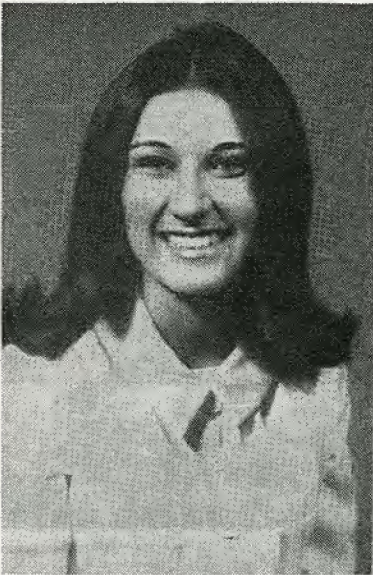

Cynthia Hoffman's time is occupied with Sigma Sigma Sigma, Golden Hearts, Student Senate and cheerleader duties. A physical education major, "Sam" finds "true friendship and happiness" as a candidate. Cynthia "just hopes that we win the game" as she awaits the queen election.

Jan Schneider plans to teach math on the secondary level and she, too, is kept busy with such organizations as Kappa Mu Epsilon, Golden Hearts and Alpha Lambda Delta. Disbelief, surprise and a feeling of honor are her feelings about the queen candidacy.

Loretta Miller, majoring in sociology, wants a future of public relations overseas. Loretta finds FHS very friendly and her candidacy confirmed her belief "that people are just great and nothing could ever beat 'em!" Her main interest is traveling, which she feels leads to an education and an appreciation of people.

Gross Award Presented Today

Paul "Busch" Gross

Finalists have been announced for the "Busch" Gross Award — presented each year to the top senior athlete from the preceding year.

Based on outstanding athletic ability, scholastic achievement and leadership, the "Busch" Gross Award is the highest honor a Tiger athlete can earn.

The late Paul "Busch" Gross was an FHS athlete from 1917-1920; basketball coach from 1930-1946; athletic director from 1930 until his death in 1964. In 1957 he was inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame for noteworthy achievement in basketball.

Athletes eligible for this year's "Busch" Gross Award include: Bruce Zamrzla, track and cross country; Ronald Goates, track and football; Roy Ralston, baseball; Bill Schrum, baseball; Paul Simmons, football and baseball; Dean Stein, baseball; Bill Greving, basketball; John Markle, basketball; Mike McAtee, basketball and tennis; Gene Rider, basketball; Duane Werner, wrestling; Warren Teasley, gymnastics; and Rich Dreiling, football.

The Gross Award will be presented before the homecoming football game. Dick Burnett, executive assistant to President John Gustad, will present the award.

Fred Andregg, a four-year letterman and two-time All-Central Intercollegiate Conference forward was the 1968 winner.

Varied Homecoming Program

Fort Hays State 1969 Homecoming was traditional in many aspects, but it also brought several variations from previous homecomings.

A Victory March replaced the Snake Dance of former years. New in the program, was a soccer game between the FHS team and a group from St. Joseph's Military Academy.

Formation of the charter membership of the new organization, Half Century Club, also made 1969 Homecoming different. This year's honored guests, the FHS graduates of 1919 and all previous years, organized the club.

And finally, FHS's new president, John W. Gustad, changed the face of Homecoming also. A reception on Saturday was given in the President and Mrs. Gustad's honor by the alumni.

Friday night saw the annual bonfire and robing of the Homecoming queen, chosen from the five finalists: Robyn Dangel, Jetmore senior; Elia Domenguez, Leoti junior; Cynthia Hoffman, Sublette junior; Jan Schneider, Ellsworth junior; and Loretta Miller, Collyer junior.

The Soulful Seven performed for the annual Homecoming Dance, Friday evening 9-12 p.m. in Sheridan Coliseum.

Freshman-sophomore Tug-of-War at Custer Hall Bridge opened a full program for Saturday, Homecoming Day.

Fifteen high school bands participated in the FHS Homecoming parade, with its theme, "Highlights of the Sixties," along with the FHS Marching Band and the Go Go Ette twirlers. Highlighting the parade was the float competition, involving ten entries from campus organizations.

Homecoming 1969 ended with a concert by the Serendipity Singers, sponsored by the campus Artists and Lecture Series.

Break your beard in right.

Right now your beard is in the formative stage.

You can shave it with a razor blade like your father does. And each time you do your beard will grow back a little more difficult. Until one day shaving's no longer a chore. It's an agony.

Look no further than your father's face for proof.

But fortunately, you're catching your beard at an early age. You can break it in to be just as shaveable 10 and 20 years from now as it is today.

With a REMINGTON® Lektro Blade shaver.

And if you think the kind of shave we're selling won't be close enough for you, you're wrong.

Our new Lektro Blade shaver has very sharp disposable blades. Just like a razor. So it gives very close shaves. Just like a razor.

What's more, you can dial a Lektro Blade shaver into a sideburn trimmer.

Admittedly, it costs more to buy our electric shaver than a razor and some blades.

But it's a good investment.

These next few years will determine how you and your beard will get along for the rest of your lives.†

National Pass Catching Leader to Challenge Tigers

Impressive as Bruce Cerone's credentials are, opponents and the weather have stopped the 5-11, 195-pound senior. Against Colorado State College in an early showdown, Cerone was held to 5 receptions for 59 yards and no touchdowns. Last week, a 25-degree temperature and a 45-mile-an-hour wind held the senior to 2 receptions for 28 yards and no TDs.

An NAIA, NCAA small college All-American last year, Cerone led the nation in pass receiving with 91 catches for 1,479 yards and 15 touchdowns. He also broke three national NAIA records for most receptions, yards gained in a season and pass receiving average per game.

Two of the marks that fell belonged to the likes of Willie Richardson of the Baltimore Colts. Richardson's NAIA career yards gained of 3,616 fell as did Florida State's Ron Sellers who set the NCAA mark at 3,598 yards. To date, Cerone has 3,701 yards with four games to play.

Another mark within reach is the total number of career receptions set by Howard Twilley of Tulsa who recorded an NCAA high of 261 catches. Cerone has a three-year total of 164 catches and was 87 shy at the start of the season. Cerone needs just 55 more receptions to set a new standard for collegiate football.

Key Losses Shade Basketball Outlook

"We've lost a lot of key people from last year," head basketball Coach Chuck Brehm said. "That's going to hurt us," he said.

"But with our returning varsity players and our good crop of juco transfers and freshmen, we should be able to fill these vacancies," he added.

Fort Hays State's 9-13 squad finished in a tie for fourth last year with Pittsburg State in the initial year of Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference competition. Gone from this team are the top six starters including NAIA All-American Bill Greiving (16.9 scoring average) and high-scoring Gene Rider (16.1 average).

Only one returning starter — 6-8 center-forward Martyn Howgill — is back, along with Darryl Apel and Leneal Locke, two guards who saw considerable action during the second half of the season last year.

Also back in action are varsity squadmen Bob Bartkoski (6-5 center-forward), Mel Kitts (6-6 forward) and Mike Gaskell (6-7 center-forward).

"It takes time to get a team with a lot of transfers and some inexperienced personnel to jell," Brehm said. "But I'm real pleased with the attitude of our boys so far," he said.

Included in the junior college transfer corps is 6-4 Hutch Juco product Darrell Stockstill. "Darrell's a good forward," Brehm said. "He's consistent on the boards and a good scorer."

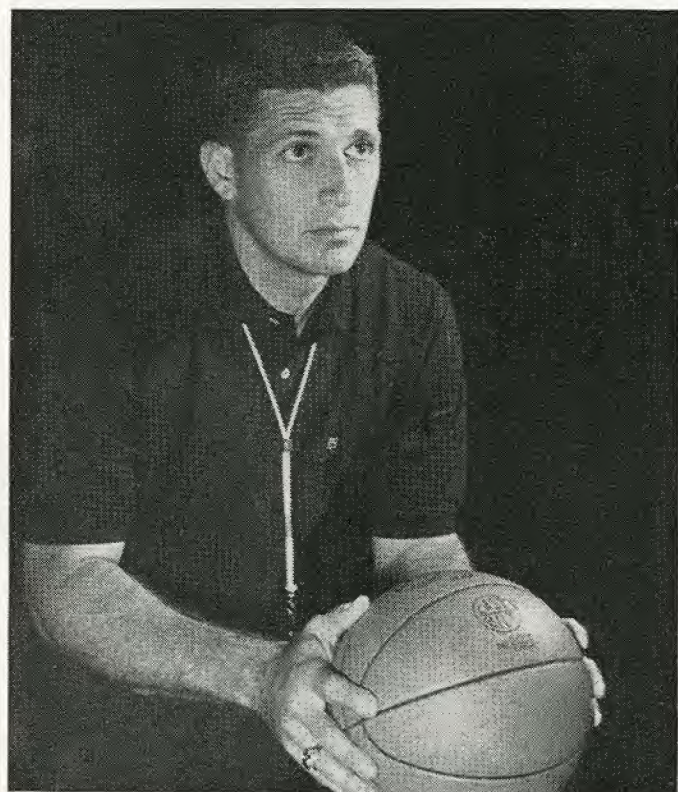

Forest Park Junior College (St. Louis) transfer Gary Vejvoda is another bright spot for the Tigers. "Gary's got all the tools to play guard in the RMAC," Brehm said. "He's quick, passes and drives well and can hit from outside."

Two Garden City Juco transfers, Al Campbell (6-4 junior forward) and Duane Rauhut (6-0 sophomore guard), will also be counted on along with two freshmen, Jim Keller (6-3 guard-forward) from Pueblo, Colo., and Steve Wilson (6-4 forward) from Wichita North High School.

Brehm tabs last year's cellar dweller University of Nebraska at Omaha and fourth-place Pittsburg State as the pre-season favorites for the RMAC crown.

"Omaha returns all five starters from last year," Brehm said. "That puts them on the top of the list."

What about the Tigers? "We're going to surprise a lot of people before the season is over," Brehm said.

History of College Football

by ALLISON DANZIG

ON THE PLAYING FIELDS of Rugby came the genesis of the American game of football.

Had not, in 1823, a schoolboy at the famed English Public School by the name of William Webb Ellis taken it into his head on the spur of the moment to run with a ball picked by the opposing side, thereby outraging propriety with his shocking violation of the rules, soccer might have continued the only style of football played in Britain and on the North American continent. Then and there (or some days later, when the indignant outcry had changed to a feeling that maybe the revolutionary blackguard had something) was born the game of Rugby football, or rugger, in which running with the ball is permitted.

Had not, a half century later, Harvard University, also by chance, played a style of football that had elements of Rugby, soccer (Association football) might have remained the pastime on our college campuses, and our own style of game might not have evolved as a predominantly running and, later, forward passing game. It was a form of soccer, with twenty-five on a side, that Princeton and Rutgers played in the first game of intercollegiate football in this country November 6, 1869, at New Brunswick, N. J. It was soccer that Yale and Columbia also played a century ago.

Because its football differed from the game of the others, Harvard declined to join in the first intercollegiate rules convention at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York October 19, 1873, at which rules modeled after those of the London Football Association (soccer) were adopted. It turned for competition to McGill University of Montreal, which played the football of the English Rugby Union. Two games in the spring of 1874 with McGill at Cambridge, and a third in the fall at Montreal, sold Harvard completely on Rugby and led, at long last, to the most famous of all college football rivalries in the country—the Harvard-Yale, or THE GAME.

The Crimson and the Blue met for the first time November 13, 1875, at Hamilton Field in New Haven, Conn., under "Concessionary Rules," playing a hybrid game of Rugby and soccer, with fifteen on a side and a round soccer ball. Harvard was the winner over a Yale team that scarcely knew what it was all about. A year later, they met in Rugby, with Yale converted to Harvard's style of football and Harvard giving in to Yale's demand for eleven on a side. They played with an egg-shaped leather ball on a field 140 yards by 70, and Yale won, one goal to none.

That same year, 1876, Princeton, won over to Rugby, called a convention at Massasoit House in Springfield, Mass. Yale, Harvard, Columbia and Princeton representatives formed the American Intercollegiate Football Association. They adopted the code of the Rugby Football Union except for a scoring change, the game being decided by a majority of touchdowns and a goal being equal to four touchdowns.

The die was now cast: Football was to become a running as well as kicking game, and the way was cleared for the evolution of football into a game indigenous to the United States.

The man who led in that evolution, whose creative, inventive mind came up with the fundamental changes and whose leadership in getting them adopted brought about the development of a game of imagination, strategy, skill, speed and daring far surpassing the rather elemental structure and concepts of Rugby, was Walter Camp of Yale. He was the first giant of American football, the father of the game, and he helped to set the highest standard of sportsmanship by precept and personal example.

Camp was a contemporary of Amos Alonzo Stagg (the most inventive of all coaches, the Grand Old Man whose coaching career spanned three score and ten years until he retired in 1960 at the age of 98, and who died at 102 in 1965). A man of rugged honesty and stern simplicity, Camp was of the Spartan mold. From the time Camp attended a rules convention in 1878 as a Yale player, he was a member of every rules committee until his death in March, 1925.

The first of his most far-reaching changes came in 1880. This was the substitution of scrimmage for the Rugby scrum. Two years later came the adoption of his system of downs and yards to gain—at first 5 yards in three downs, then 10 in 3 (1906) and finally 10 in 4 downs (1912). These two revolutionary innovations changed the basic structure of football and brought about a new concept and format of the game. The principle of possession of the ball was established and that was the most fundamental departure from Rugby, in which the ball changes hands endlessly, often in a matter of seconds. Also in 1880, Camp won his long fight to reduce the number of players from 15 to 11.

With the introduction of scrimmage, the quarterback made his appearance and also there came a new method of putting the ball in play. Instead of being heeled out in a melee of rival Rugby packs, it was given to the offensive center and he snapped it back with his foot to his quarterback.

With possession and control of the ball, planning and strategy became important. Also in 1882, the field was reduced from 140 by 70 yards to 110 by 53 1/3 and took on the gridiron appearance with the horizontal lines every five yards for the measurement of first downs.

Simultaneously, Camp devised the system of signals and worked out the accepted arrangement of the eleven players—7 forwards, a quarter, two halfbacks and a fullback. A year later he introduced the numerical scoring system, assigning point values for the methods of scoring—5 for a field goal, 4 for a goal after touchdown (try), 2 for a touchdown and 1 for a safety (made by opponent).

In 1884, another of the fundamental features of American football became established without actually being sanctioned by legislation. This was interference or blocking. Princeton had been using convoys at the sides of the carrier since 1879 and now sent them ahead, a clear violation of Rugby's "offside," but passively accepted and then, in 1888, legalized by implication.

In 1888 came the last of Camp's fundamental changes that created the structure of the American game prior to the legalization of the forward pass in 1906. This was permitting tackling below the waist.

When the line constricted, the backs—formerly spread across the field—had to close in also, for protection against the deadly low tackle. Thus resulted the close formation that became standard—the original T, from which a quarter century later Notre Dame was to shift into the box and which, approximately another quarter century after, was to have its revival in the modern version as employed with sensational success by Stanford University.

No one foresaw it at the time, but this particular change in 1888 was to bring about a game so brutal and hazardous as to lead to outcries for the abolition of football. As a consequence the far-reaching rules changes of 1906 legalized the forward pass and resulted in an open game so imaginative and thrilling with its speed, deception and skilled maneuvers as to win millions of new followers.

National Champs Tough Under Coach Francis

When most coaches lose a competitor like All-American cross country runner John Mason, they're down. But not Fort Hays State's veteran Coach Alex Francis.

"You don't ever replace guys like that — ever," Francis said. Mason was undefeated his last two years at Fort Hays State and ranked as the top cross country runner in college competition as the Tigers won their third national title.

"But we have some outstanding boys back with us this year," Francis said. "Our problem is getting them into shape. We'll be ready for the late season meets and for the two big ones, the NAIA and the RMAC meets."

Ten lettermen return to boost the Tiger fortunes. Heading the list are sophomores Larbi Oukada, Casablanca, Morocco, and Alvin Penka, Odin.

Penka paced the Tiger harriers to two straight wins to open this season. The 5-9, 140-pound runner led FHS past Kearney (Neb.) State College 18-43, then established a course record at the Wichita Invitational as the Tigers picked up their second win.

Oukada, who competed for his native country Morocco in the 1968 Olympics, has been slow in recovering from a leg injury suffered last season.

"But he's really coming around now," Francis said. "He's much better than expected at this point," he added.

Oukada returned to action in the third meet of the season for the Tigers at the Oklahoma Jamboree in Stillwater.

The 5-11, 140-pound runner captured third place at the Jamboree as a powerful University of Texas squad finished first. The University of Kansas placed second, followed by FHS.

Former high school standout Penka followed Oukada to the tape for fourth place.

"I was pleased with our team finish," Francis said. He pointed out that it was still early in the season. "And we don't reach our peak until near the end," he said.

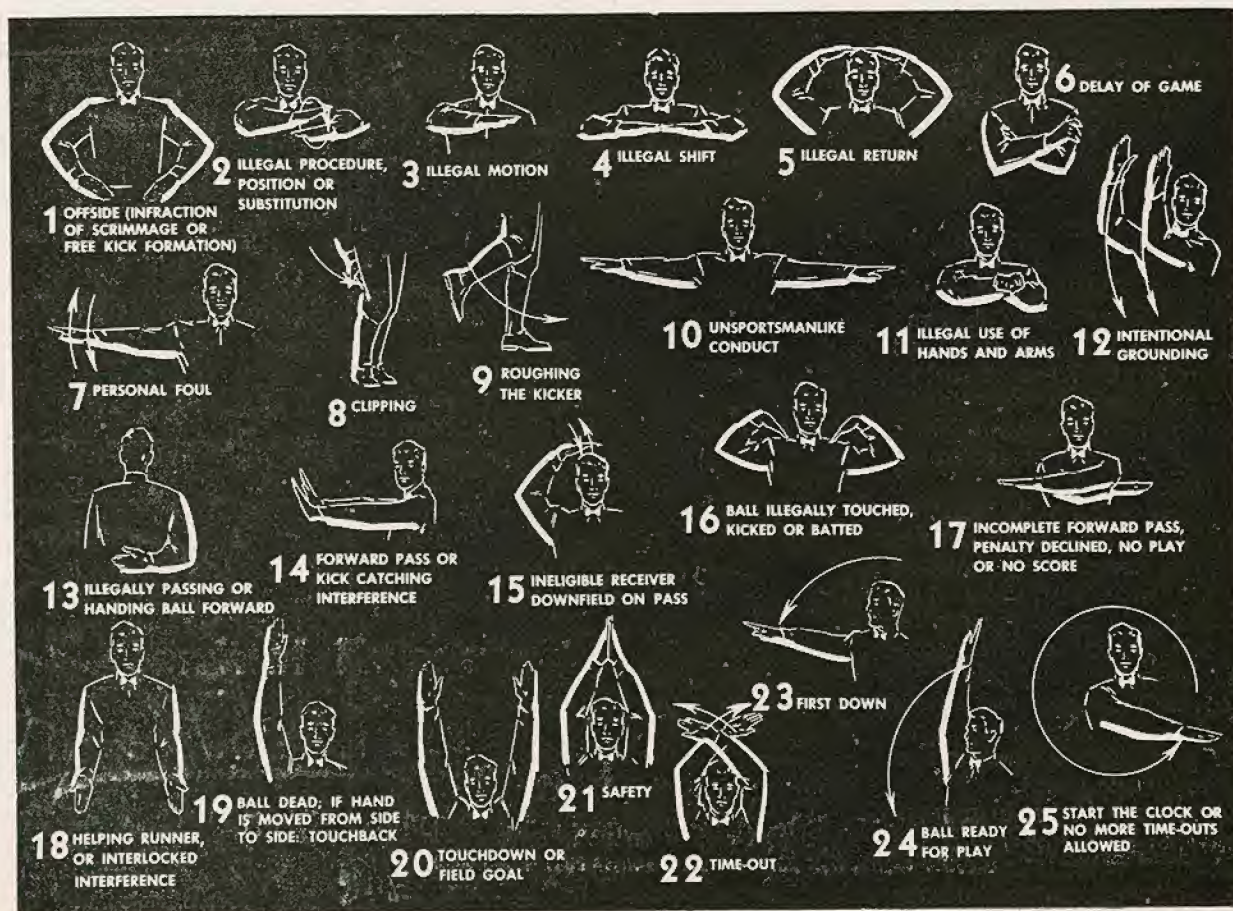

The Texas runners totaled only 36 points to KU's 47 and FHS's 67 in the meet. Fort Hays State's RMAC rival, Emporia State Teachers College, finished fourth with 114 points, followed by Oklahoma State University, 132; Eastern New Mexico University, 157; Wichita State University, 175; Texas Christian University, 225, and Oklahoma Baptist University, 242.

But Oukada and Penka are backed by several other top veterans. Two seniors, Jerry Duran of Johnson and Jerry Shelly of Ford, are back for their final round of college competition. Both have earned three letters in the sport.

Steve Boehmer, Bern junior, and a host of sophomores including Herb Camien, Long Island, N.Y.; Dave Goering, Sylvan Grove; Dave McLeland, Great Bend, and Dennis Wheatcroft, Ellinwood, provide additional strength for Francis' squad.

Newcomers to the squad are freshmen Elmo Bailey of Medicine Lodge, Ken Walker of Wathena and Rich Green of Hays.

Next outing for the Tiger harriers is the Kansas State Federation Nov. 1 at Manhattan.

Precision Drill Team To Kansas City Nov. 9

The "Tiger Debs," an all-girl precision drill team from Fort Hays State College, has been chosen to represent the college at halftime of the nationally televised professional football game between the Kansas City Chiefs and the San Diego Chargers Nov. 9 in Kansas City, Mo.

The drill team is comprised of 40 members and was organized three years ago by Mrs. Karen Nan Johnson, now a Hays senior. Members are chosen by auditions in the spring and fall and a third of the team are freshmen girls.

Mrs. Johnson said members are chosen for their showmanship, personality, appearance and ability to perform. The team wears uniforms of black and gold, the FHS school colors, and black derby hats. The girls perform for many college events and last year furnished the entertainment at the National Junior College Basketball Tournament finals at Hutchinson. The next performance for the group is Oct. 18 at halftime of the Fort Hays State-Emporia State College Homecoming football game in Lewis Field Stadium.
